

An educator's most important task, one might say his holy duty, is to see to it that no child is discouraged at school, and that a child who enters school already discouraged regains his self-confidence through school and his teacher. This goes hand in hand with the vocation of the educator, for education is possible only with children who look hopefully upon the future.

- Alfred Adler

